MEMORANDUM FOR: Director of Central Intelligence

SUBJECT : Training for Employees of IAC Agencies

1. General Partridge has recently requested that selected employees of G-2 be given brief tours of training in CIA, and arrangements are now being made for such tours. His interest in training for these employees leads us to propose that the Agency offer places to the IAC agencies in our Basic Intelligence Course given to personnel in the DDI Offices.

2. The Office of Training believes that both CIA and the other intelligence agencies would derive mutual benefit from the attendance of these employees. It would promote the development and acceptance of common doctrines and terminology, give the new professional employees an understanding of the intelligence community, and remove some misconceptions which occasionally impair relations. The offer of places to the IAC agencies would be partial repayment for CIA's use of their training facilities.

3. If such an offer to the IAC agencies meets with your approval, we would reserve two places in future courses for both civilian and military personnel. The two slots would be rotated among the Departments of the Army, Navy, Air, and State. Informal conversations would be conducted with appropriate officials in these Departments and followed by a memorandum indicating schedules. Adequate security clearance would, of course, be required.
